

In Super Directive Proposal

Made at What May Be Last Day Of The London Conference

By the Associated Press

The 12 North Atlantic treaty nations today weighed the possibility of creating an international army to contain Communism.

In what might be the last day of their London conference, the foreign ministers of the pact countries heard an American proposal to set up a super command. It would weld together their military power and strengthen political and economic ties as well.

Under this plan the continental countries would supply most of the ground forces. Defense experts have recommended a standing army of 30 divisions—450,000 men. French infantry would probably make up the bulk of this army.

Informants said Britain would concentrate on jet fighters and anti-submarine warfare. Britain has shown great efficiency in both phases.

Proposers of the international army plan contend that it will be successful if nations concentrate on what they can do best and most efficiently. This will avoid the dilemma of spending too much on armaments to fight Communism only to find the nation a fertile field for Communism because it has spent itself into bankruptcy.

Would Supply Vessels
Under the American plan, the United States would supply heavy naval vessels and big high-speed bombers and other more costly arms which the United States is in a better position to provide.

British newspapers have speculated that the job of overall commander should go to an American and the names of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wartime supreme allied commander, and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff, have been mentioned. However, most of the pact nations have expressed a preference for a civilian to fill the post.

To Supervise Defenses
By Wes Gallagher

LONDON, May 17.—(AP)—The Atlantic Council agreed tonight to set up a permanent defense organization to meet continuously to supervise the defenses of the west.

An official communiqué said details of the agreement will be announced tomorrow.

It is understood to include the supreme defense chiefs of the western nations working at the head of a permanent defense committee.

The communiqué also said the ministers reached complete agreement on a directive to be sent to defense and finance committees.

BAGHDAD, Iraq, May 17.—(AP)—The turbulent Tigris river flooded suburban Baghdad today, driving 20,000 people from their homes. Officials said 5,000 houses were submerged and hundreds of mud-constructed buildings collapsed. No loss of life was reported.

Life of Transfusion

These lovable, laughing children must have blood transfusions every few weeks for the rest of their lives or they will die. Three-year-old Vicki Lou (right) and baby brother, Vaughn Charles, 10-months-old, are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Erler of Dallas, Texas. Both have Mediterranean anemia, a blood disease so rare in America it took the medical experts months to identify it. So long as they get their transfusions on schedule, doctors say the pair will grow and live out a normal life span. (AP Wirephoto)

Court Acts on Protest Made On Dumping

Strong Resolution To Keep Trash Off Roadsides

Following is a resolution passed today by the Pettis county court judges, as a result of recent protest of many residents in the Maplewood vicinity complaining of persons dumping all sorts of trash along the roadsides of that community:

"Now on this day comes J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge of the Pettis court and offers the following statement and resolution. This statement and resolution is hereby approved by the associate judge of the Eastern district W. L. Marlin and the associate judge of the Western district Ed Callis.

"It has been called to the attention of this court that a condition exists in the community surrounding the Maplewood school of which the citizens of that community rightfully complain. According to information coming to this court, it is indicated that some citizens of Sedalia and possibly some who live outside the city limits have dumped all sorts of trash along the roadsides of this community. Acts of this sort cannot be termed accidental nor merely thoughtlessness. But it must be looked upon as a premeditated law violation and anyone violating this law should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Therefore be it resolved that:

"The Pettis county court call for full cooperation on the part of all law enforcing agencies of the City of Sedalia, the Twelve Mile Special Road district, school directors and all of the law enforcing officers of Pettis county to diligently search out such offenders and fully cooperate in prosecuting such offenders in order that this condition may be remedied and brought to an end. This resolution and recommendation shall also apply to any community in Pettis county.

"It is ordered by this court that a copy of this order and resolution be entered on the minutes of the county court by the county clerk and a copy be furnished to the proper law enforcing agencies of this county and community.

J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge. "W. L. Marlin, judge East Dis. "Edw. Callis, judge West Dis."

Convict Rex Christian Over A Slaying

DONIPHAN, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—A circuit court jury last night deliberated a little more than an hour before convicting Rex Christian, former Doniphan street commissioner, in connection with the slaying on January 19 of Russell Sperry, a barber. The jury recommended a two-year prison sentence.

Sperry was shot to death on a street after which Christian contended to officers and then testified in court the barber was breaking up his home.

Overpayments Due to Rush

Most to Service Men Has or Will Be Recovered

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary of the Army Karl Bendetsen said today overpayments of $157,000,000 in servicemen's dependency allowances were "inevitable" under the wartime "get 'em paid" philosophy.

Most of the overpayments either have been or will be recovered, Bendetsen assured a House armed services subcommittee investigating congressional charges of maladministration, laxity and Communist infiltration in the army's finance center at St. Louis.

He said of the "total erroneous payments and over-payments," $83,000,000 has been paid back, $15,000,000 legally waived for hardship cases and $25,000,000 referred to the government accounting office for recovery. This leaves only $34,000,000 and he said he expects that to be recovered.

Bendetsen asserted there has been "no evidence of fraud uncovered so far" in various investigations of the finance center. He said "corrective action" had been taken in all cases of irregularities.

"Naturally, in such a gigantic undertaking some mistakes will be made," he said.

But for the most part, Bendetsen said.

Neosho Keeps Manager Plan

By The Associated Press
Neosho voters defeated by a mere 28 votes yesterday (Tuesday) a move to return to the council form of city government.

The tally was 698 to retain the city manager plan and 670 for the council form.

In elections at two other Missouri places, bond issues carried by wide margins.

Two thousand voters turned out at Nevada to approve by almost three to one a $295,000 bond issue to improve the school system. This will be fattened by some $115,000 from the building fund and other sources and used to abandon two elementary schools and improve three others.

By a 10 to one margin, Pike county approved a $175,000 bond issue to put a 50-bed addition to the hospital. The federal government will match this sum.

Restored To Job As Milk Control Chief

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—(AP)—Dr. Milton R. Fisher was ordered restored to his job as city milk control chief by Circuit Judge Edward M. Ruddy yesterday pending a review of the case.

Dr. Fisher was fired last Sept. 20 on grounds that he failed to co-operate with his superiors. The city civil service commission upheld the dismissal, and Dr. Fisher appealed to the circuit court.

Doubt Excise Tax Reduction Be This Year

Proposal From President on Tax Increase Rejected

By Francis M. LeMay

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—New doubts arose on Capitol Hill today that there will be excise tax reductions this year — unless President Truman changes his mind about vetoing any tax bill that reduces the overall revenues of the treasury.

The House ways and means committee, by voice vote late yesterday, rejected the President's proposal for a $400,000,000 increase in federal levies on inheritances and big gifts.

This was one of the big increases — along with higher corporation taxes and the plugging of tax law loopholes — by which Mr. Truman proposed that Congress offset the loss from proposed excise reductions.

Tax law managers, after yesterday's action, predicted to newsmen that Congress never will be able to offset, with higher taxes elsewhere, the $1,080,000,000 in excise cuts the ways and means committee estimates it has approved already.

The figure is almost twice as big as the $535,000,000 limit Mr. Truman recommended. It includes reductions on furs, jewelry, ladies' handbags, toilet preparations, movie admissions, travel tickets and scores of other items.

To Act on Corporation Taxes

The committee has yet to act on the President's proposal for a $650,000,000 increase in corporation taxes. It also has some votes to take on his suggestions for plugging tax law loopholes, that would yield more millions.

There is substantial doubt that the bill finally sent to the White House will follow the President, and closely either on the corporation hike or the loophole plugging.

But, while the committee yesterday turned down the bigger estate and gift taxes, it did move to tap a source of additional revenue not specifically suggested by the President.

It voted 16 to 8 to impose a 10 percent withholding tax on corporation dividends, designed to collect $150,000,000 annually from persons now dodging taxes on dividend income.

This puts no new tax obligation on any persons, but cracks down on those who now fail to report their dividends when they make out income tax returns. It is patterned after the pay-as-you-go tax withholdings from wages and salaries.

The committee was told that $1,400,000,000 of the approximately $8,000,000,000 paid annually in corporation dividends never is reported in individual income tax statements.

The dividend withholding idea would give the tax collector a sure check on how much dividend income each taxpayer got — and tax dodging in this field might become a thing of the past.

Counting the pick-up from dividend tax dodgers, the committee thus far has found only $420,000,000 of the $1,080,000,000 it needs in new revenue sources to counter the excise reductions.

Booming Sales to Keep Plants Going For Weeks Ahead

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—Sales managers in many companies are the fair-haired lads around the conference tables these days. They have placed enough orders to keep their plants going for many weeks or months ahead, in spite of growing competition.

A long list of booming sales orders is reported today in a wide assortment of industries. There is a surprise or two in the lot. And there are some predictions of better sales and therefore more production in the months ahead for a number of other industries.

Two Tarred And Feathered

HOUSTON, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—A man and a woman were stripped of their clothing then tarred and feathered by a group of 10 or 12 men late Monday night, Sheriff D. C. Kirkman said today.

The sheriff, who withheld names of the victims, said they were not injured.

"The tar was only warm," he said, "not hot enough to burn."

The sheriff said the man was employed as a laborer on the woman's farm and her husband, employed in Michigan, is away from home most of the time. He said the man told him he was working at the barn when the group of men he could not identify came up and seized him. The woman was taken later and was stripped of her clothing before roofing tar was poured onto her body. She was then rolled in feathers and released.

This is Circus Day; Crowds At Unloading

First Showing by Kelly-Miller One This Afternoon

The second largest wild animal circus in the world, the Al Kelly and Miller Bros. circus, arrived in Sedalia early this morning, and the complete show was erected and ready for the afternoon opening by noon. The circus arrived on 60 motor vehicles, carrying nearly all kinds of wild animals imaginable. The show tents were erected about a mile west of Sedalia on the south side of highway 50.

This morning strings of automobiles lined both sides of the highway. Grown-ups and kiddies alike were touring the 15 acres of circus, looking in on the animals, while they were being fed, and watching the mechanized procedure the circus workers were using in raising up the big top, and other side show tents. Many of the early visitors brought their lunches and planned to spend the day.

Night Show at 8 O'clock

Those who missed the circus this afternoon will have another opportunity to see it tonight, starting at 8:00 o'clock. The attraction under the big top will last approximately an hour and 40 minutes. No admission will be charged to go on the circus grounds, nor will there be any parking charge on the grounds, which is commonly known as E. W. Thompson's pasture.

There are various side shows, an old fashioned minstrel show, and plenty of concessions. Nearly everything sold at the concessions cost a dime. Mel Lewis, business manager of the circus for the past six years, who seems to know the circus routes, said this circus today, will be the largest one to arrive in Sedalia this year. The circus will be here only today and will shove off Thursday for Higginsville. It showed in Clinton Tuesday. This week will wind up the tour of Missouri, and then the circus will move into the state of Iowa. Lewis said the

The booming lumber, steel, rubber and paper industries say they expect good times for quite a while yet.

Enough print cloths and other cotton goods—an estimated 150 million yards—has been sold in recent days in New York's Worth street to keep many cotton tex-

Grand Juries in Three Counties

JACKSON, Mo., May 17.—(AP)—A general investigation of conditions by separate grand juries in three southeast Missouri counties was ordered today by Circuit Judge R. B. Oliver, III.

Cape Girardeau county grand jurors meeting in Jackson were instructed to investigate "all character and grades of crimes." Judge Oliver said his broad, general charge to the grand jury was taken from the Missouri constitution.

He said similar instructions would be given later today to the Scott county grand jury convening in Benton at 11 a. m. and to the Mississippi county grand jury meeting at Charleston at 2 p. m.

The judge told newsmen he decided to call grand juries at the same time in each of the three counties of his 28th judicial circuit so that no one would get the impression that one county was being singled out for investigation.

Savings Bonds Campaign is Under Way

Judge Hoffman In Address at a Ceremony Held

Tuesday evening at the court house the "Independence Drive" for the United States Savings Bonds campaign came into its real activity with a pleasing and interesting ceremony.

Circuit Judge Dammitt Hoffman delivered the address of the event and on the platform with the large replicas of the Liberty Bell, which was brought here in time for a parade during the afternoon, was a group of women and children in costume, the women being members of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The women wore costumes in old fashioned styles of the period they represented.

Judge Hoffman Speaks
The Kroenke concert band opened the evening program playing a fifteen minute concert followed by the opening prayer by the Rev. Father A. J. Brunswick, of the Sacred Heart church and J. J. McGrath giving the welcoming address.

Judge Hoffman gave an outline of the history and an explanation of the Liberty Bell and the 62 replicas that are now on tour over the nation.

Judge Hoffman urged the crowd to purchase and stressed that "by investing in bonds and securities the citizen insures for himself and his loved ones, a freedom and an independence from poverty, from disease and from ignorance with the right to own property and carry on free enterprise; all this by means of systematic savings and thrift."

J. J. McGrath expressed his thanks for the cooperation he received in the process of staging this program here. He said the Boy and Girl Scouts should be commended for their part in the program as well as the members of the D.A.R., the American Legion, Police force, Kroenke's band and the C. C. Hubbard high school band. The trucks that used in the parade were here through the cooperation of the Ford Motor company and the W. A. Smith Motor Company here.

Pledge of Allegiance
Frank Berlin, cub scout and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Berlin of 516 East Fourth street lead the crowd in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Debate Is Heated On FEPC

Humphrey Gets Call Down in Senate From The Southerners

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Senate debate on FEPC grew heated today and Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) twice was called down by southerners who protested he was casting reflections on them.

Once was when Humphrey accused FEPC opponents of "defending" the American people. The second time was when he denounced as "blasphemy" the contentions of some that fair employment practices legislation is a Communist idea.

In each case, Humphrey first was ordered to take his seat, then was given permission to go ahead with his speech. It amounted to a reprimand and warning to watch his language. Senate rules forbid a senator's reflecting upon another senator's integrity or honor.

Before this rowing, Democratic leader Lucas (Ill.) filed a petition to cut off debate and have a vote on his motion to bring the FEPC bill formally before the Senate. Technically, the debate of the last two weeks has been on a motion to take up FEPC.

Has Sufficient Names
The petition carried 40 names, 24 more than the 16 required to force a vote at noon (EST) Friday on the question of limiting debate. It will require 64 votes to put through a debate limitation, or cloture as it is called.

The petition was signed by 26 Republicans and 14 Democrats. When Humphrey shouted that the American people were being "deceived" by the southern foes of the bill, Senator Connally (D-Texas), jumped up to challenge the statement as a "reflection on every senator who is opposed to cloture."

Connally's contention was upheld by Senator Long (D-La.), who was acting as presiding officer. Senator Russell (D-Ga.), quarterback of the southern forces, moved that Humphrey be allowed to continue his speech "in order."

Humphrey then declared that to intimate that the bill "has Communist lineage or has a Communist background, is x x blasphemy."

Senator Holland (D-Fla.) jumped to his feet to protest. He said the term "blasphemy" was tantamount to a "cursing of the deity" and that he resented the "application of that term

Rubber is Malaya's Big Weapon In Hot War of Terror

Jungle Patrol: In the dense tropic forest of Malaya, British soldiers seek Commie-led bandits.

By John Strohman
NEA Special Correspondent
SINGAPORE, Malaya — The grim-faced officer snorted: "We talk cold war. Let's wake up to the fact that this IS war — a new method of waging war."

"Factories will be no help if workers are too paralyzed by fear to work. Fields of grain will fill no bellies if farmers are too terrorized to do the harvest."

Telling me this was William N. Gray, police commissioner of Malaya, who came here from the tough job of policing Palestine, once a hotbed of revolt. His present assignment: Rooting out 3,000 Communist-led bandits who style themselves a "Malayan Army of Liberation."

Using the dense jungles for cover, these raiders dart out at night to burn villages and plantations, murder planters, ambush police, wreck trains and otherwise disrupt Malayan life.

You realize when you reach this country how foolish it is to call this combat a "cold war." Were there as much shooting in Europe as occurs here daily, our newspapers would be filled with war-scare headlines.

The terrorists are do-or-die Reds who are holding out desperately in hope aid may come to them from their Communist brethren farther north in China and Russia. But troublesome as they are, the Malayan guerillas are the menace they'd like to be.

For I found British Malaya definitely a strong point in the defensive barricade being held against Communism in Southeast Asia. Here's why:

The country earns its way economically. Supplying half the world's natural rubber and tin (materials vital to the U. S.), it collects more dollars for Britain than do all the latter's own manufacturers.

A leathery-skinned rubber planter spoke the mind of many: "Look, we want no handouts, no help, no loans. Just give us a fair price for rubber and a chance to produce it."

Secondly, although Malaya is surrounded by fiercely nationalistic countries, no shouting for immediate self-rule is heard here. These people, under British protection, enjoy better food, housing and pay and are more content than any in the Southeast.

A land the size of Illinois, Malaya is still three-fourths jungle. Yet, it's rich in resources compared to India and China and has attracted the venturesome from both those countries. Two million Chinese and half a million Indians just match the native Malays to account for the country's 5,000,000 Asiatics.

Malaya has been good to all and they've lived largely in peace. The Malays are small farmers, raising half the nation's rubber on two to five acre plots, living in thatched huts set on stilts. The Chinese, sharper and harder working, control most of the business. Indians do most of the work on the big plantations.

I visited an Indian laborer's home and saw well-filled dinner plates. Later I looked in on the school his children attend and the hospital where his wife, so I'm told, has a baby once a year. She gets maternity benefits from his employer.

I admired some new tile-roofed stone houses being erected by the Dunlop plantation for its Chinese hands. The manager remarked ruefully: "Yes, we thought they were pretty nice, too. But the government won't approve them until we make the windows a foot wider."

With this sort of guardianship, it's not surprising there's little talk of British imperialism. I asked Shaikh Ahmed, Malay leader, if he is impatient for freedom.

"Give us 25 years to get ready for self-rule," he replied. "We must train doctors, engineers and leaders in other fields."

The same answer came from Khoo Teik Ee, secretary of the Malayan Chinese Association. Actually the country practices considerable self-government now and the various groups are trying to whip together a constitution suitable to all. Nobody anticipates any great difficulties.

The Communists, hiding in the jungle where they holed up after their open revolt fizzled 2 years ago, are enraged at the "back-

Protection: Planter and guard carry their guns everywhere.

Malaya is deceptively peaceful until you move into areas fringed by the jungle. There you see the plantation managers faithfully hugging their tommy-guns and danger becomes immediate and real. I visited an estate soon after bandits had burned a row of workers' houses, killed the foreman and terrorized the people into promising food and money.

Mopping up the raiders occupies 30,000 British soldiers and costs $100,000 a day. When I went out with a patrol, the job looked hopeless. We had tommy-guns, Sten guns, rifles, grenades, short wave radio to keep in touch and a Borneo native to do the tracking.

We went down paths made by wild animals and the bandits. The wonder was that we were able to escape the Reds; not that we didn't knock off any.

Communism's conquest of China gave the guerillas a shot in the arm. They've been attacking of late with renewed zeal, despite the determined native and British opposition.

This has led some Chinese to waver in allegiance to the non-Communist cause. They remember the Japs' conquering visit to Malaya, lightly equipped with tennis shoes and bicycles, and then their crushing defeat cappression of business in Chinese cities.

But Malaya's rubber output is at record highs, prices are good in the world market, and so the country's chief morale prop is sturdy. The general view is this nation can come through its guerilla troubles and any others unless it's outflanked by the fall of Indo-China, Burma and Siam to the Red drive pushing southward.

Here in Malaya, as almost everywhere in the region, I learned that people are looking to the United States for the decisive steps to prevent such a calamity. And Indo-China is seen as the critical bastion.

Said Sir Malcolm MacDonald, British commissioner general for Southeast Asia:

"The Russians will push as far as they can. It's up to the U. S. and the West to say: 'This far and no farther.' And then be prepared to back it up."

Taft Charges Truman Would Wreck Nation

Would Bankrupt and Convert the Nation To "Handout State"

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—Sen. Taft charged last night that President Truman's policies would bankrupt the nation, convert it into a completely regimented "handout state" and possibly plunge it into World War III.

Answers Truman Charges
The Ohio Republican, talking to the radio to answer the charges of G. O. P. "obstructionism," Mr. Truman made on his cross-country stumping tour, angrily raked the "political immorality" of the administration.

He spoke of vote frauds in Kansas City and smuggling of secret documents in Washington. And he accused the President of a "promise everything" policy that "will wreck the United States."

In an address prepared for a four-network audience (10:30 p. m., E. S. T.), Taft charged that Mr. Truman's 6,400-mile trip—"taken at your expense"—was part of a crusade for a "rubberstamp congress."

The senator accepted the President's challenge to "come out for something and be a real opposition." Mr. Truman huffed it last night in a major address at Chicago.

The Republican party, he said, stands for four-square resistance to communism, an "all-powerful armed force," real freedom of the individual, equality between business and labor and a "return to the principles of thrift and sound fiscal policy on which this nation was constructed."

Must Elect Free Congress
"If we hope to progress in the future as we have in the past," Taft said, "we can only do so if we elect a free congress, one which will carry out a program of progress based on the principles of liberty and justice and equality on which this nation was founded."

The Democratic 81st Congress, he declared, "has rejected the Truman program as definitely and conclusively as the Republican 80th."

The people, he said, are rightfully alarmed over "the uncertain basis of their prosperity" and, even more so, over "the threat of a third world war."

"I am myself hopeful that it will never occur, but it is the foreign policy of the Democratic administrations which has made it possible," the Republican leader said.

"The political immorality of the Truman administration," he said, "has shaken the confidence of the people in their government."

Pettis County 4-H'er Will Attend Camp

to obtain a better understanding of the functioning of the nation government, and to give them a deeper realization of the responsibilities of citizenship in a representative form of government. They will return to their home communities better equipped to share with their fellow 4-H members a keen appreciation of the ideals that have shaped the nation.

Each morning, nationally known speakers and the 4-H delegates will gather in discussion groups to consider various phases of the year's theme: A Better Living for a Better World.

The afternoons will be devoted chiefly to visits to points in and near Washington that are important in the development and functioning of our representative government, or are of historical interest.

The camp will be held under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Missouri College of Agriculture.

To Attend Club Week

The delegates will attend the first day of the Missouri 4-H Club Week at Columbia, June 12-15, before they leave for the nation's capital. They will be accompanied by Lester Akers and Ruth Crowley, state extension 4-H agents.

Emmett Fairfax is a veteran 4-H'er with 21 completed projects to his credit. In his ten year of club membership, he has built up an impressive list of achievements. They include: present president of the Missouri 4-H Council, Pettis County Council president for two years, junior leader for two years, winner of the state Boys' Junior Leadership Award, and a delegate to the 1949 National 4-H Club Congress. Last year, he was top individual in the state in livestock judging. He went on to win sixth place at the American Royal and placed 33rd at the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

Since starting with a purebred heifer project in 1946, Emmett has expanded his livestock projects to include 12 head of cattle and 81 head of ewes and lambs now. Emmett and his two brothers now operate a 250-acre stock and grain farm themselves. They are following a balanced farming plan and belong to the Pettis County Balanced Farming association. Emmett says, "Through our experience as 4-H'ers we have learned many of the methods and techniques that we attribute to the successful operation of the farm."

Jenna Lee Martin, 19, of Fairfax in Benton county, has completed 36 projects. During her achievement-filled career, she has made 68 garments and canned 525 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

In 1948, Jenna Lee was one of three highest at the Benton County Livestock Judging day and she was on the team in district judging at the Sedalia State Fair where her team won a blue ribbon. She won a trip to the National Club Congress in 1948 as a result of her home freezing project work. And she was County Dress Review winner in 1949.

Jenna Lee was three times president of her club, the Pomme de Terre club. She helped her club to landscape an almost forgotten cemetery in her community and turned it into a place of beauty. They raised part of the money through a pie supper. And they plan to continue this cemetery beautification project this summer.

Jenna Lee is now attending the University of Missouri. She is majoring in home economics and plans to go into home demonstration agent work after she graduates.

Big Freight Car Order

The largest freight car order to outside builders in 25 years has just been placed by the Pennsylvania railroad. The Equitable Life Assurance Society will pay for the 10,000 cars and rent them to the railroad. The insurance company also is buying 1,300 cars to rent to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

Freight car orders hit a low point in 1949 (only 6,248 ordered in the entire year) but up till May 1 orders for 27,950 have been placed this year, and the new Equitable deals will boost the year's figures still higher.

Lumber dealers around the country report their sales top last year by as much as 25 percent. Little wonder, with sales of new homes running 55 percent ahead of last year.

The auto and home building booms combine to give the glass industry record sales. Some glass companies have stepped up production.

Steel production this week is expected to hit 1,931,000 tons, a new record—and steel sales managers don't have to extend themselves much to sell all of it.

Paper production is running at almost 104 percent of rated capacity, compared with 81 percent a year ago, the American Paper and Pulp Association reports.

Summing it all up, the Commerce Department puts national output of all goods and services at an annual rate of $264 billion in the first quarter of this year, or $7 billion above the production in all of 1949. The manufacturers' sales in March were the highest in 15 months.

sen continued, "the overpayments were a direct result of the get-em-paid philosophy of wartime and the demobilization." He recalled that Congress itself wanted the payments speeded up.

Due To Confusion

Otherwise, he continued, the discrepancies were in part the result of confusion resulting from changes in address, belated notices of separation from the service and administrative errors.

Commenting on criticism that the army had not been firm enough in its efforts to recover overpayments, Bendelsen implied that some of the blame might rest with Congress itself.

With a grin, he observed: "In 1949, over 4,000 letters were received by the army finance center from members of Congress asking it to be a little more lenient in cases of overpayment."

This would figure out at almost ten letters each from every member of the House.

Bendelsen also took up other criticisms of the finance center. "He discounted security violations, emphasizing that the finance center did not deal in information of a security nature not generally known to Congress in public hearing."

He said 63 of the center's 4,500

Move to Rectify States Common Boundary

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Senator Darby (R-Kas) yesterday introduced a resolution asking consent of congress to an agreement between Kansas and Missouri to rectify their common boundary line along the Missouri river.

Of the 63, Bendelsen said nine were separated, four resigned in the course of investigation, 25 later were separated or resigned for other reasons, and 25 are still employed with no justification for their removal.

"These 63 were not policy making employees, but clerks and employees engaged in purely administrative matters," he said.

Moscow Calls Off Invasion Of Western Berlin

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, May 17 — High Commissioner McCloy has cabled the state department from Germany that the Communists are getting cold feet and will back down on their threat to seize Berlin during their May day demonstrations.

McCloy reports he has learned that Foreign Minister Vishinsky has called the East German Communist leaders to Moscow and has ordered them to abandon their invasion. Vishinsky and the Politburo are now convinced that the west means business and will fight to keep Berlin. But Vishinsky gave the German Communists a caustic dressing down for tipping the Russian hand by their boastful speeches about what they intended to do. He figures that if the Communists hadn't blabbed so much, they could have surprised the western troops and taken over the city in a few minutes.

Uncle Sam Pays And Pays

A Missouri grain company that grew up overnight shows how government agencies sometimes don't let each know what the other "hand" is doing. The company rented a section of Camp Crowder, Mo., from the government for $5,569, then, in effect, leased the same property back to the government for $204,000.

Both contracts were signed within a week after the company, Midwest Grain Storage and Realty, was incorporated last September. First, the company rented 113 buildings at Camp Crowder from the War Assets Administration, then turned these buildings into storehouses for the agriculture department.

War Assets charged $1 per building, plus varying rates per square foot, totaling $5,569 in rent. However, the agriculture department paid Midwest one-twentieth of a cent per bushel per day for storing 2,041,803 bushels of surplus corn. This amounted to $204,000 for 200 days—the maximum number of days that the rate is in force each year.

Thus, while Uncle Sam leases from Peter to pay Paul, Midwest Grain storage rakes in the profit. However, A. H. Myers of Kansas City, company president, claims the grain isn't as thick as it looks. In the first place, he says, Midwest had to pay for unloading the grain. The agriculture department provided $30,627 extra for this, but Myers claims it cost $40,000. When it comes time to move the grain, Myers also figures it will cost more than the $15,303 handling charges which the government is committed to pay.

However, Myers is counting on the $204,000 storage contract being renewed for another year. And, to this column it looks like good business — if you can get it.

Note: V. M. Harris Grain Co. of Scott City, Kansas, an established firm, is also renting facilities at Camp Crowder for storing 895,936 bushels of surplus wheat. Harris pays $16,713 in rent, collects $66,800 in storage fees.

New Farm Plan

Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan is working on a new farm plan. This doesn't mean he is giving up the Brannan plan, but merely that he is doing some research on an idea that is growing on Capitol Hill.

The new idea would be for farmers to build up an insurance fund during prosperous years and draw on it during lean years. It is hoped this eventually would cut government farm handouts to a minimum and shift the burden to farmers to pay their own support prices out of the insurance fund.

Congressional interest in the federal crop insurance, idea is increasing, particularly with Chairman Harold Cooley of North Carolina and Congressman W. R. Poage of Texas, both powers in the House agriculture committee. As a result, Brannan has agreed to make a thorough study of the idea and report his findings to Congress.

However, this will not become a new Brannan plan. In fact, after turning his research over to Capitol Hill, Brannan will probably recommend against it.

Merry-Go-Round

Secretary of Defense Johnson was on the horns of a political dilemma about the televised cabinet meeting Chicago. Generals and admirals urged him not to attend, said it was politics. But the President wanted him there. What the admirals forgot was that Louey got his cabinet job partly by raising more money than any other man in 1948. . . . Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson is getting more mail than even the President. Reason—a planned campaign against the once-a-day mail service by Bill Doherty, the ambitious president of the National Association of Letter Carriers. The carriers are stuffing handbills and postcards in letter boxes asking that protests be mailed to Donaldson. The postmaster general is getting it from both sides, from friends of the carriers add those who resent being pressured by the mailman. . . . Dr. Edwin G. Nourse is writing a book on his experiences as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers that is so hot he will not publish it until President Truman is out of office.

Playing 'Follow the Leader'?

Earnest Republicans hoping for better luck at the polls this fall must be rather dismayed at the spectacle of Victor Johnston, a GOP campaign committee official, traipsing around in a plane after Mr. Truman's special train.

The idea is supposed to be that Johnston, being on the spot at the President's stops in the West, is able to judge more accurately the popular response to Mr. Truman and to draft fitting replies — quickly — to his speeches.

There are millions of independent voters in the United States and, for all anyone knows, a large share of them may be eager for a promising alternative to the long entrenched Democratic regime.

But they are hardly likely to be impressed by Johnston's "follow the leader" tactics. To them, as to many tried and true Republicans, the Johnston junket must seem like one more admission that the GOP is pursuing a course of negative criticism rather than a policy that is constructive, dynamic and imaginative.

The best news many Republicans and independents could hear would be that Mr. Johnston had veered off from the President's trail and was making some positive statements on his own.

Stage is Set—Let's Put Crime Overlords in The Limelight

By Bruce Bissant

In the coming months this country will have an unusual chance to deal smashing blows against organized crime. Both Congress and the Justice Department have plans underway which could produce excellent results—if properly executed.

The Senate has created a special crime investigating committee and given it $150,000 to work with Senator Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat, is the chairman.

At the same time, the Justice Department has begun a comprehensive inventory of 150 leading underworld figures in the United States. It has asked all U. S. attorneys to supply full information at their command on the activities of these individuals. Department officials will coordinate the information in Washington.

The inventory may be a prelude to the most sweeping prosecution of racketeers since the late 1920's and early 1930's, when Al Capone and many other prohibition gangsters were put behind bars.

The pattern of crime has altered greatly since those days. Now the obviously phony front common in that period is considered amateurish. Leaders in gambling, vice and racketeering engage in many legitimate businesses, tangling them so cleverly with their illicit activities that it's hard to draw the line.

They hire able lawyers, try to keep within the law and, for the most part, manage to stay out of jail.

No one, not even our best crime experts, is sure how broadly these groups are organized, though many believe powerful national syndicates exist. Nor has anyone explored with painstaking thoroughness the role organized crime plays in American politics.

That's the opportunity beckoning both to the Senate committee and the Justice Department: to mark out the real boundaries of U. S. crime and determine its true links with our political life.

The job in the Senate calls for able, earnest leadership. It will be impossible to keep politics out of it. But perhaps we can hope at least that political angles will not be overstressed. No party and no individual should be spared in ferreting out the truth, whether in California, Louisiana or President Truman's home state of Missouri.

The Justice Department may assist the committee by turning over some of its findings on the 150 racketeers, if that won't hamper possible prosecution.

Above all, the glare of publicity should be thrown upon these men and their many underlings. A Communist often finds publicity to his advantage; a criminal never does.

If We Bake Larger Economic Pie, There'll be More to Eat

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, plans to campaign for higher wages and lower prices as a cure for unemployment he thinks is growing to serious proportions.

In taking this line, Green is following the path thinking about the economy that unfortunately has impressed many labor leaders. The theory is simple: Higher pay and cheaper goods mean greater purchasing power for the consumer, which translates itself into more jobs.

The actual workings of the economy are a bit more complex. Lower prices are indeed a desirable goal wherever possible, but they must be founded on lower costs if a business is not to sell at a loss.

Lower costs can be achieved in different ways. One is by selling more goods and thus reducing unit cost of articles.

A second route is to increase productivity — output per man — either by better organization of work, by improved methods and more machinery, or by greater individual efficiency among workers.

This is the path most businessmen must take to lower prices. With their costs cut, they feel reasonably safe in offering products at reduced figures. They can't lose their shirts while waiting for people to respond by buying more.

When the market is thus built up, fair minded businessmen pass on some of the added returns to workers as higher wages.

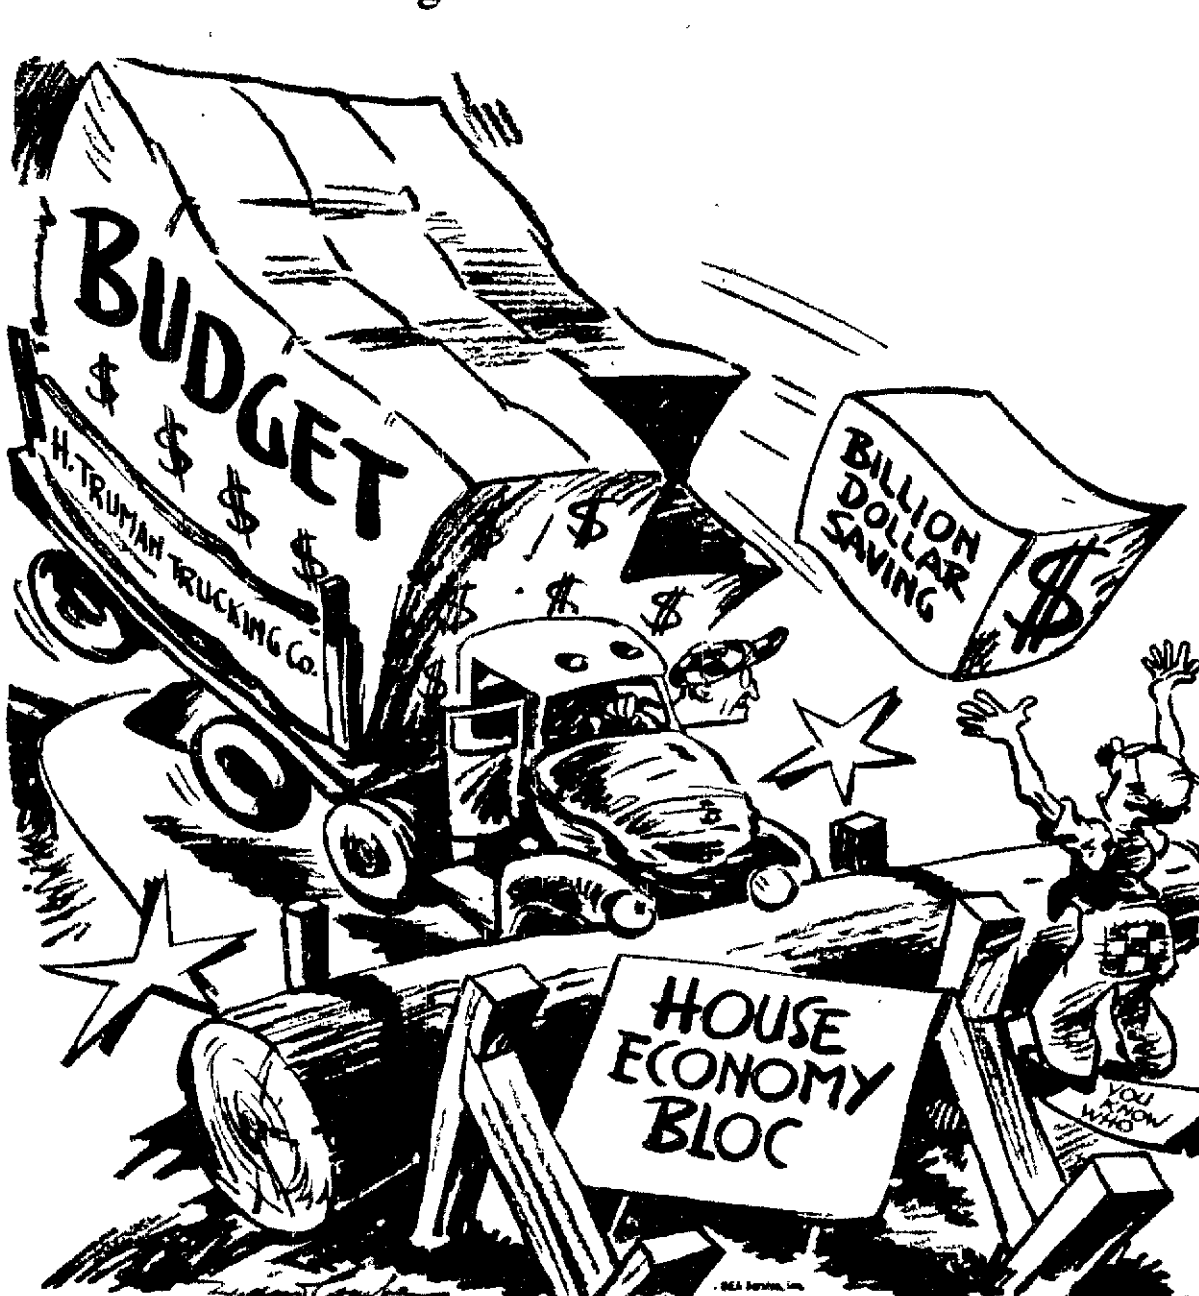

But, except where wages have been held down arbitrarily to unreasonably low levels, it should be plain that higher pay unaccompanied by greater productivity or rapidly expanding markets is actually an obstacle to lower prices. The businessman simply passes the increase on to the consumer in HIGHER prices.

The key to both lower prices and higher wages is the goods at less cost. That process adds real wealth to the nation, wealth that can be fairly divided among all who take part in production.

This is an elemental fact that Green and others in labor apparently refuse to accept. They persist in policies which assume there is a fixed amount of pie and the job of union leaders is to see that labor gets a bigger slice.

The real task before labor and everyone else involved in the economy is to increase the size of the pie.

Refuse Recognition of The Marriage of Princess Fathia

CAIRO, May 17—(AP)—Egypt's royal council refused Tuesday to recognize the California marriage of King Farouk's sister, Princess Fathia, to a Christian commoner, a palace spokesman announced. The council ordered an administrator to take control of the properties of both Fathia and Queen Moher Nazli.

The queen mother had approved the marriage of 19 year old Fathia last month in San Francisco to 31-year-old Riad Ghali. King Farouk did not approve. The bridegroom is the queen mother's secretary.

The council also ordered Fathia's sister, Princess Faika, to return to Egypt immediately from the United States, the spokesman, Mohammed Zulfoukar Bey, reported.

In a royal council session at which Prince Mohammed Ali, the heir apparent to the Egyptian throne, presided, the council announced that so far as Egypt is concerned, the California marriage is considered annulled.

The council is the royal family's court, which advises the king on matters involving members of the royal family who violate royal wishes. The newspaper Al Ahran had announced last night the king asked the council to study the marriage and make recommendations.

Power to Take Wealth

The council has the power to place the princess' wealth under custody and declare the marriage void in view of a state law which forbids the marriage of a Moslem woman to a Christian.

King Farouk was quoted by Al Ahran as saying that due to the illness of the queen mother, who has been in the United States since 1946, and the youth of Princess Faika and Princess Fathia who are with her, "they fell under the influence of some persons attached to them." Princess Faika also married an Egyptian commoner, Fouad Sadek, secretly in San Francisco only a few weeks before Fathia's wedding.

The newspaper also quoted the king as saying: "This led to the marriage of Princess Faika before receiving our approval and the determination of the queen mother to marry (permit the marriage of) Princess Fathia, who still is immature and under the custody of the queen mother, to someone called Riad Ghali."

The newspaper said Farouk also had reported that 48,300 Egyptian pounds ($1,386,210) had been sent to Queen Nazli and the two princesses during their stay in the United States.

Violin Used As Club May Be Strad

LAONA, Wis.—(AP)—In 1899, Jerome Bouck, a fiddler in lumber camps, used his violin as a club in a brawl. The violin was repaired by V. C. Squier of Battle Creek, Mich. Records do not show whether the other fellow's head needed repairs.

Now Jerome's son Ervin owns the violin and has found in it an inscription saying it was made by Antonius Stradivarius. He knows that many such inscriptions are fakes, but he has never had the instrument checked by an expert. If it is a genuine "Strad", it is worth a fortune. But he does not want to risk shipping it.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Clyde Harper. Assignments were given to each member for the Rural Life Sunday and songs were practiced. Refreshments of homemade cookies and soda pop served.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Betty Vanderman.

Federal For Special Session

JEFFERSON CITY, May 17.—(AP)—The Missouri Federation of Labor urged Gov. Forrest Smith today to call a special session of the legislature to rescue St. Louis from its reported financial crisis.

The resolution adopted by AFL delegates at their convention here said the federation officers should "prevail upon the governor to call a special session of the general assembly at the earliest possible date for the purpose of extending the earnings tax for the city of St. Louis."

Otherwise, the resolution offered by St. Louis fire fighters said, the city will be forced to curtail "vital necessary services."

Mayor Joseph M. Darst has told the governor that if a special session is not called to extend the one-half of one per cent earnings tax, St. Louis stands to go into the red about $8,000,000 by next April 1. The present tax law expires July 17.

In resolutions adopted the labor delegates:
Urged a 75 cents an hour minimum wage law in Missouri to coincide with a similar federal law which became effective last January.

Demanded a 40-hour maximum work week for state employees, recognition of unions of such government workers, plus pensions for them.

Denounced wildcat strikes and said "We bitterly condemn the use of picket lines in jurisdictional fights."

In the final day of the three-day annual convention, Gladys Wedding of Kansas City, Charles Callison of St. Joseph and Willard Stevenson of Springfield were named new vice-presidents. Kansas City was chosen a delegate to the AFL 1950 national convention.

Veteran president Rueben T. Wood was not up for reelection this year.

Wrecked Auto Towed In

A wrecked 1950 Chevrolet coach, which looks as if it had been rolled over, is parked at Hamlin's service station, Third and Osage avenue.

All available information that could be obtained this afternoon was that Hamlin's wrecker towed the car to Sedalia this morning from near Ottumville, and the car is owned by C. E. Hoffman of Abilene, Kas.

Recall For Ambassador

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(AP)—Ambassador Capus M. Wayne is being recalled temporarily from his post in Nicaragua to launch the "point four" program of aid for backward areas of the world. Announcing the move, Under Secretary of State James E. Webb said there is "real urgency" in getting a start on the program.

Wayne, a former North Carolina newspaper publisher, is expected to return to the capital next week. He will retain his status as ambassador while serving here.

A State Department staff already is at work on the program. Wayne will take over the direction of it.

Senate and House conferees this week approved a foreign aid bill authorizing $35,000,000 for technical aid to underdeveloped countries, under the program President Truman first outlined as point four of his inaugural address.

This is Circus Day; Crowds At Unloading

Circus traveled six months out of the year, and wintered with seven other circus shows at Hugo, Okla., where they make their winter headquarters. He said the daily expenditure of the circus was $1600.

Tent for $3,000

The big tent where the feature attractions are held, such as acrobatics, wild animal performances, clowns and many other attractions, will hold 3,000 people. Under the tent are five rings and two stages. Many of the wild animals will be seen in cages before entering the big tent, which is 290 feet long and 90 feet wide. One of the side show tents is 170 feet long and 70 feet wide. There are 450 people connected with the show, many who take part in the performance and others employed running stands and erecting the tents. The business manager of the circus said the show carried no gambling devices. He said the show was powered by Diesel light plants, and that the circus carried its own fire truck. He said the circus was known as the most beautiful motorized circus today, and that all the motor vehicles were Chevrolets.

Ira Watts, lot superintendent, whose job is to lay out the lot and spot the tents, etc., was the first man from the circus to arrive at 5:30 o'clock this morning. He said his sister lived at Ottumville and his home was in Fort Scott.

One could go right down the line this morning and see all kinds of animals, zebras, tigers, lions, monkeys, kangaroos, bears, including Himalayan bears from the deep African area, ostrich, an African angereese, horses, donkeys, baby cubs, baby elephants and big elephants, a Central American tapir, rhinoceros and a hippopotamus and other animals.

The tigers and lions are fed meat six days a week and on Sunday are treated to milk and eggs.

The feature acrobat of the circus is Evelina Rossi, who has been with the show six years. She winds up her performance with what she calls the plunge of death. This noon in front of the E. W. Thompson's at Fourth street and Osage avenue, a herd of elephants performed for a large crowd of on-lookers.

Four Boys Are Bitten by Squirrel

It will probably be sometime before a group of little neighborhood boys play around with squirrels again, as four of the boys were bitten by the same squirrel Tuesday afternoon.

David Thomas, about 9 years old, son of Mrs. Lorraine Thomas, 807 East Fourteenth street, was bitten painfully on his thumb, splitting it open on both sides. The bite pierced through his thumbnail also. David's mother works during the day and was unable to be contacted, but according to David's physician, Dr. W. A. Beckmeyer, the bite was not too serious.

Shortly after the accident, a police officer shot the squirrel and took his head to Gough & Gough, veterinarians, who sent the head to the laboratory in Jefferson City and will probably receive a report Thursday.

The way a police officer explained the mishap was that the boys were trying to catch the squirrel and when they had it cornered underneath a washtub, the squirrel got violent.

Miss Rosemary Burrows To St. Joseph Clinic

Miss Rosemary Burrows, 700 West Fourth street, who was dismissed from the Bothwell hospital Tuesday, left this morning with her brother, Arthur V. Burrows, editor of the St. Joseph News-Press and Mrs. Burrows for St. Joseph to go through a clinic there. Her sister, Mrs. Ted Willis, of Smithville, Texas, has also been with her here.

Important Events In World News

LAKE SUCCESS, May 17.—(AP)—Trygve Lie told news men in Moscow today he had "no reason to be dissatisfied" with his talks with Prime Minister Stalin and other high Russian leaders.

A statement Lie made to newsmen in the Soviet capital was released at U. N. headquarters here.

The secretary general said he had exchanged views of a "positive kind" with the Russians on the general international situation, Chinese representation in the United Nations, the "so-called cold war," and international control of atomic energy.

PARIS, May 17.—(AP)—The Count of Paris, Henri d'Orleans, exiled pretender to France's long-defunct throne, will soon come to France to live, ending his exile in Portugal, a spokesman said today.

The French national assembly yesterday repealed a 64-year-old law forbidding the members of the families of France's former monarchs from living in the country. The count will bring his wife and 11 children with him, the spokesman said.

TOKYO, May 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called again today for an early peace treaty—and indicated he does not care if Russia and Red China do not sign it.

PARIS, May 17.—(AP)—The French government today established legal machinery pending parliamentary approval to let the press do its own professional policing.

On a proposal by information minister Pierre Henri Teigen, the cabinet set up two "supreme councils"—one for publishers and the other for working journalists—to draft regulations and supervise their enforcement with regard to the moral and professional responsibilities and freedom of the press.

Door of Welcome Inn Open

The Welcome Inn, 1121 East Third street, lived up to its name, Tuesday night and early this morning, as police officers while making routine checks of business establishments, found the door open. They closed and locked the door about 1:15 o'clock this morning.

Stocks Stall After Early Rise

NEW YORK, May 17.—(AP)—The stock market stalled this afternoon after a morning rise.

Early gains of fractions to a point—mostly under a point—were fully maintained in most cases but that was about the best that could be said.

With the prime exception of radio-television issues, plus gains were scattered liberally through the list.

Business was brisk, with volume around 2,000,000 shares. Radio-television issues were shipped down just before the close. Losses piled up to an extreme of two points or so in the case of Zenith radio. Also down were Radio Corp., Philco, Emerson and Admiral.

Higher prices were paid for Youngstown Steel Door, Pullman, Pressed Steel Car, American Car and Foundry, Pepsi-Cola, Servel, St. Regis Paper, Robert Gair, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Schenley, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, Phil Morris, Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (N.J.), and Johns-Manville.

Bond home appliances dropped around a point at one time. Profit taking hit Western Union after a rise of around two points in the last couple of days.

Democrats And Truman More Popular

Chairman Boyle is Planning for More 'Whistle Stop' Tours

CHICAGO, May 17—(AP)—The Democratic campaign boss said today the Democrats and President Truman are more popular than ever, and the party is continuing on more presidential trips to help win 1950 elections.

William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic National chairman, said he is hoping and planning for more "whistle stop" tours, aimed at critical states.

"President Truman's leadership and popularity is greater than ever before, and the same is true of the Democratic party," Boyle told newsmen.

More Support than 1948
"His trip last week through the west showed there is more Democratic support than in 1948."

"The President's popularity is much bigger."

Boyle said he doesn't think the Democrats are falling into the pit of overconfidence which party leaders, at the national conference over the weekend, said the Republicans plunged into two years ago.

"We must guard against it," he said, "but I don't think we're overly optimistic."

Boyle was enthusiastic over a Democratic National conference which preceded Mr. Truman's Chicago Stadium speech last night. About 400,000 persons watched the presidential parade and 22,000 filled the stadium for a Jefferson Jubilee celebration.

Another Chicago Visit

He said Mr. Truman probably will visit Chicago "more than once" before Nov. 7. And he may visit some cities in downstate Illinois, a GOP stronghold, to help reelect Senator Scott Lucas, his senate floor leader, over Republican Everett M. Dirksen.

Boyle said he doesn't think any Democratic voters are being wooed away by the GOP as a result of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's charges that there are communists in the government.

The national committee, in an unusual resolution, early today went on record against employment of communists but condemned "smears and innuendoes which hamper our government x x x."

Boyle said that if he had his way, the committee would not have "dignified" McCarthy's charges.

HEALTH NEWS

Scientific Laboratories Find RELIEF FOR CONSTIPATION

Every year, the laxative conscious U. S. public purchases $100 million worth of laxatives. Most of the laxatives people buy are harsh, intestine irritating laxatives which most doctors denounce.

Cascara, calomel, salts, senna, castor oil, phenolphthalein often aggravate digestive trouble, or start trouble if none exists. Enemas reverse the bowel movement procedure making it impossible to establish normal bowel movements.

UNI-LAX Is The Answer

After years of scientific research by medical men and scientific laboratories, sufferers can now hope for relief from the use of harsh irritating laxatives through the use of a new drug, sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of UNI-LAX.

UNI-LAX is a bulking substance which is easily taken in tablet form. Drop a tablet of UNI-LAX in a glass of lukewarm water. Leave it there overnight and see what happens. The same thing happens in the digestive tract. It forms a suspension of many, many little translucent gelatinous particles. It goes through most of the digestive tract unchanged, but turns to a smooth gel about the time it reaches the colon.

COLON ILLUSTRATIONS

THE NORMAL COLON. Firm muscular and regular.

Recent Tests Prove

Many, many tests have been made by medical men and scientific laboratories on sodium carboxymethylcellulose, the active ingredient of UNI-LAX. The tests definitely show its superiority. A test was made recently using 37 patients. Four of these patients were expectant mothers. Out of these 37 subjects, using the drug for various lengths of time, 23 reported excellent results—a normal, soft, bulky stool without gripping, cramping or tenesmus, at least once a day. Fifteen reported results were good, with a bowel movement five or more times a week.

In another test, 125 patients were used. In addition to being constipated, these patients suffered from various other ailments. In fact, 94 of these patients were bedfast. Results: 109 patients considered the new drug better than anything previously used. Five patients described effectiveness about the same as other laxatives.

GUARANTEED 100%

Delay in bowel movement can cause you discomfort, worry and indigestion. If you are a sufferer of constipation, go to your drug store and get a bottle of UNI-LAX. Don't wait until you have developed a dependence on harsh laxatives. Use the tablets as directed. If you are not completely satisfied, return the bottle to us and we will cheerfully refund your money. Ask for "UNI-LAX in the blue bottle".

It's Barnyard gossip . . .

By A. B. WARREN

Hog cholera vaccination is probably the most commonly used immunization today and yet many instances of infection in unprotected herds are reported each year. It must be that some farmers are hard to convince that Hog Cholera Vaccination is very cheap insurance against the disease.

One farmer who generously vaccinates but for some reason or another had put it off this spring told me that he had lost ten head. This on top of medication to save the rest of them ran into quite a sum.

The cost of vaccinating a 100 pound shoat is about 55¢ by either the Virus and Serum method or Vaccine.

B-J Chiefs Play Lions Here Tonight

Tuesday Night the Sedalia Team Lost to Stags

After dropping a 4-3 ten inning baseball decision to the Jefferson City Stags, Tuesday night in Jefferson City, the Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs will take on a tougher foe tonight, when they face the Moberly Lions, under the lights of Liberty Park, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Joe Imhauser will be on the mound for the Sedalia club, with "Corky" Scheiner, doing the pitching chores for Moberly. Scheiner is well remembered here by local Ban Johnson followers, as the pitcher who hurled two shut-out victories over the Chiefs last season. In one of the games, the star hurler worked, which was a 1-0 victory for Moberly. It was the last game of the season for both clubs, thus clinching the Central Missouri Ban Johnson championship for Moberly.

Expect Pitchers Battle
The tilt tonight should be a real pitcher's duel, as both the Sedalia and Moberly hurlers are the clubs' top pitchers. Imhauser has scored two shut-out victories already this season.

In Tuesday's night game, "Big" Jim Egbert was on the mound for the chiefs and allowed seven hits, struck out 11 and walked two. Nilges pitched for Jeff City, and allowed eight hits, walked three and struckout 12.

The game lasted ten innings with the winning run scored by Summers on an error by Eschbacher at third with a stolen base and an overthrow at third by Whitworth, the catcher.

Bob Dillard got two for five and Wallace, a rookie from Leeton, got three for five.

Line-score:
Jefferson City.....002 000 010 1-4 7 2
Sedalia.....000 120 000 0-3 3 3

U. S. Golfers Enter British Amateur Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 17—(AP)—If an American doesn't win the 1950 British amateur golf crown, it won't be for lack of representation.

Thirty-four United States players are lined up for the big battle opening Monday on the royal and ancient golf club's tricky layout and the advance guard is busy getting in some practice links.

It is the largest U. S. contingent ever to seek the coveted title. One of the early arrivals here was Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., who won the title in 1947. Turnesa motored up from London and played one round yesterday "just for exercise."

The former British and American amateur king was accompanied by Udo Reinace, who also is competing.

Americans Eliminated From British Golf

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland, May 17—(AP)—The last American player was eliminated from the British women's golf championship today when Dorothy Kieley of Los Angeles fell before the Vicomtesse De Saint Saviour of France, 1 up in a quarter-final match.

The tall Frenchwoman, hitting her long irons crisply and accurately over the 6,500-yard seaside course, won the first hole of the match with a birdie four and was never headed.

Other quarter-finals today pitted Mrs. Andrew Holm, Scotland, against Miss Elizabeth Price of England, and Mrs. George Valentine, Scotland, against Miss Jeanne Bisgood, England.

The 29-year old Los Angeles flying teacher reached the quarter finals yesterday to become the only U. S. survivor. Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., bowed out to the young English player, Elizabeth Price, 2 and 1.

Miss Kieley, in the morning round, disposed of Mrs. Mervyn Sutherland Pilch of England, 4 and 3.

Standings in ABC Singles Division

COLUMBUS, O., May 17—(AP)—Tony Wisne, 30-year-old tool and die company owner of Dearborn, Mich., squeezed into a place among the top 10 bowlers of the singles division in the American Bowling Congress tournament yesterday.

Wisne rolled 691 on games of 266-215-210 — placing him in a

Missouri Favorite in Big 7 Track Meet

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17—(AP)—A veteran Nebraska track star opines that maybe 90 points will win the Big Seven outdoor track and field meet here Friday and Saturday.

That means that the boys aren't just counting Missouri as a virtual shoo-in. Missouri has been in that category for the past three meets. They romped in with considerably over 100 points each of the three outings.

Clubs Ponder Today Over 25 Man Limit

By Joe Falls

NEW YORK, May 17—(AP)—With only a few hours remaining, nine major league clubs pondered today where to apply the knife to come within the required 25-player limit. The deadline goes into effect at midnight.

Teams with no worries are the two Boston and Philadelphia clubs, the New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh. The rest must chop.

Here is a list of the clubs over the limit and players likely to be whittled:

National League
Brooklyn (26) — Third baseman Johnny Jorgensen, likely to the New York Giants.

St. Louis (26) — Pitcher Erv Dusak.

Chicago (26) — Undecided.

New York (26) — Outfielder Mike McCormick.

Cincinnati (26)—Infielder Sammy Meeks.

American League
Detroit (26) — Catcher Myron Ginzburg.

Washington (26) — Infielder George Genovese.

Cleveland (27) — Infielder Herb Conyers and pitcher Dick Rozek.

St. Louis (26) — Pitchers Tom Fine or Sid Schacht.

Blackwell Lost Pitchers Battle

PHILADELPHIA, May 17—(AP)—Ewell Blackwell has plenty of reason today to claim the title of current hard luck pitcher of the National League.

The elongated Cincinnati right-hander was the losing hurler last night as the Reds dropped a 1-0 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies — and Blackwell allowed only three scratch singles.

His fast ball was sizzling all through the game — but he had the misfortune of being matched against one of the greatest young hurlers in baseball today — the Phil's Robin Roberts.

Roberts allowed only two hits to rack up his fifth win against only one loss this year.

Women's Eastern Open Golf Meet on May 26-28

NEWTON, Mass., May 17—(AP)—Three professionals and a Chicago amateur star today entered the Women's Eastern Open Golf championship tournament, to be held at the Woodland Golf club May 26-28. The field now includes 10.

The latest professional entries are Shirley Spork of Detroit, Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kas., and Betty Mims Donoff of Dallas, Tex.

Betty Rush of the Tam O'Shanter Country club, a three-handicap player, has the distinction of being the first amateur to be listed for the three-day medal competition.

The first six entries were those of Babe Didricksan Zaharits of Prairie View, Ill., Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., Patty Berg of Minneapolis, and the Midland, Tex., sisters, Marlene and Alice Bauer, newcomers to the professional ranks.

Sedalia Legion Defeats Clinton

The Sedalia Junior Legion team defeated the Clinton Legion at Liberty park Tuesday night by a score of 12 to 2, making the third straight win for the Sedalia boys.

Jack Barnes started on the mound for Sedalia and pitched scoreless ball the four innings he worked. "Skip" Schulz started on the mound in the fifth inning. Cochran and Mines worked behind the plate for the Sedalia team.

Rhoades started on the hill for Clinton and was relieved in the sixth inning by Young. Middaugh caught for Clinton.

Bob Bartlette was the leading hitter for Sedalia, getting three hits out of four trips to the plate.

Rocky Graziano Seeks Middleweight Crown

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 17—(AP)—Rocky Graziano today was virtually certain of a shot at the middleweight crown he says he "just loaned" to Jake LaMotta "for a little while."

Graziano knocked out Buffalo's Henry Brimm last night at 2:14 of the fourth round in what was title match with LaMotta in New York's Madison Square Garden June 14.

Lindell Happy Going With The Cardinals

BROOKLYN, May 17—(AP)—The big, smiling fellow with No. 5 on the back of his St. Louis Cardinal uniform still couldn't believe it. "Houdini must have been at work pulling strings," said Johnny Lindell yesterday. "I still can't understand how it was done."

Lindell was referring to his surprise transfer from the New York Yankees to the Cardinals via the waiver route yesterday.

Expected the "Pink Slip"
"I wasn't at all surprised about leaving the Yankees," John said. "I'd been expecting the pink slip all spring. But I was certain I'd wind up with Washington or the St. Louis Browns. Heck, that's like being exiled. You can imagine how happy I was to learn that I had been sold to the Cardinals."

"If I were told to name my own team, that's the one I would have picked, as long as I had to leave the Yankees."

Lindell said he weighs 225 pounds, 10 over his regular playing weight.

Cardinals Drop Game To Dodgers

By the Associated Press

Preacher Roe, another ex-Cardinal who likes to give his old teammates a bad time, held the St. Louis club to four hits yesterday.

And with that kind of pitching, the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Cardinals 3-1 at Ebbetts Field, moving into second place and dropping the Cards to third.

A couple of singles and an error by third baseman Tommy Giaviano on a hurried throw gave the Dodgers a run in the first inning. Cardinal luck was even worse in the second.

Shortstop Marty Marion moved over to cover second with Bill Cox batting and a Brooklyn runner taking off from first. Cox smashed a double that would have been a double-play ball had Marion been in position and the runner scored. A couple of more singles, one a pop fly that Marion lost in the sun, gave Brooklyn its final run.

Gerald Staley was the loser, pitching four innings.

The 1950 Rutgers football team will face, in order, Syracuse, Princeton, Temple, NYU, Lehigh, Brown, Lafayette, Penn State and Colgate.

on the bench," he grinned. "Outside of splinters, that is."

I've seen and heard about that hot St. Louis sun, I should take off 10 pounds without even trying."

Lindell said he understands he will be in left field whenever the opposition uses a left hander.

"That's all right with me," he said. "I'll play wherever and whenever Manager Eddie Dyer wants me to play. But you know, all ball players like to be in there every day. I'll try to do so well that Dyer will be forced to keep me in there all the time."

Philly All-Stars Here Thursday

The Philadelphia Stars of the Negro American League will be in Sedalia Thursday night to play the Sedalia Cubs at Liberty Park.

The Stars have a considerably strong club this season and will be a major threat in the campaign for the championship in the Negro American League. One of the outstanding Star players who will be seen here is Bus Clarkson, six foot, 200-pound shortstop, who played in the Mexican league four years and was reinstated last season. He has powerful wrists and is a long ball hitter. Clarkson bats in the cleanup spot for the Stars.

Stanley Glenn, the Stars' catcher, is a six foot, 2½ inch athlete, who weighs 195 pounds. The Philly lead off batter is Murray Watkins, a small dynamic third baseman. The game is one of the main baseball attractions on the Sedalia club calendar and will get underway at 8:00 o'clock that night.

Sunday, in Kansas City, the Stars split a doubleheader with the Monarchs. It was the Monarchs' first defeat in seven games. The game was played at Blues Stadium.
